

Mark Your Calendar for National Drug Facts Week 2014!

The National Institute on Drug Abuse is proud to announce National Drug Facts Week 2014! Help teens shatter the myths about drugs and addiction with this weeklong health observance.

Last year, more than 500 events were held in all 50 states! With your participation, we can help even more teens learn the truth about drug abuse in 2014. Get involved and start planning your event today.

Looking for more tools to help teens learn about drug abuse and addiction? Check out some of these other great resources:

- Test drug abuse knowledge with NIDA for Teens activities.
- Learn the facts about drug abuse and addiction with Easy-to-Read Drug Facts.
- Share skills with parents to help keep their children drug free with Family Checkup.

Remember! National Drug Facts Week 2014 is January 27 to February 2, 2014.

The National Institute on Drug Abuse (NIDA) is part of the National Institutes of Health (NIH), the principal biomedical and behavioral research agency of the United States Government. NIH is a component of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.